

PolyNome
The Ultimate Practice Tool
Practice... Create... Innovate

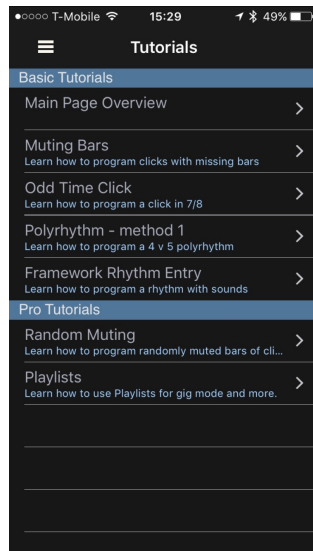

Review Guide

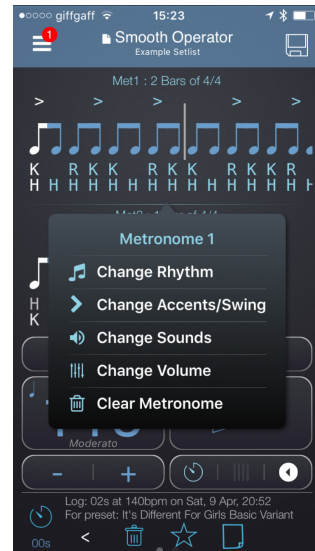

- PolyNome is no ordinary metronome, it's the most comprehensive practice and performance metronome on iOS.
- Built in Presets allow instant use. Accompanying in-built video tutorials show you how they were created.
- 2 fully programmable drum machines allow complex rhythms to be heard with, and against, each other.
- Program rate, the entire table of time, or pages of reading from drum books.
- Save Presets for quick recall. Share your Presets between devices and with friends (email, iMessage, AirDrop)
- Repeat and Count Down timers allow for timed practice or auto-stop.
- Mixer with faders for 16th and triplet divisions allows quick access to regular metronome features.
- Universal app works with iPhone, iPad, iPod Touch.

Pro features

- Many more sounds including voice counting, bass, and keys.
- Ability to displace and shuffle rhythms and sound assignments to inspire creativity or test reading skills.
- Use Playlists to create practice routines and band set lists (including printing and set length calculation)
- Auto-advance in Playlists lets you create entire song structures or complex clicks by joining Presets together.
- Automatic tempo change allows creation of practice routines.
- The Practice Log tracks everything you play. See statistics and charts of what you've worked on. Great for motivation.

Built in tutorials make learning the app easy

Pro User Quotes

"I don't travel anywhere without it; unless I lose my phone!!"

Virgil Donati (Steve Vai, Planet X, Allan Holdsworth)

"This is the ultimate! Totally usable by any musician, not just drummers.. brilliant! Thank you, thank you."

Bob Franceschini, tenor saxophone (Mike Stern, The Yellowjackets)

"It's the s#!t! !"

Dennis Chambers (Santana, Steely Dan, John Scofield, etc)

"Polynome is great for teaching, practicing and rehearsing. Tempo input by way of the number pad is a terrific feature, and the subdivision possibilities are endless. Plus, this is the only metronome I've used that you can actually LEARN from. Simple and brilliant: simply brilliant."

Peter Erskine (Steely Dan, Weather Report, Steps Ahead, Kate Bush)

"Wow! Polynome is a brilliant tool for drummers and any musician! It allows you to understand precisely what subdivisions among bars of time feel like, teaches you the drum rudiments, and so much more. One of the best apps for your toolkit, right up there with a good tuner!"

Will Lee - session bass legend (Late Show, Brecker Bros, Bette Midler, ...)
